

Report School Medical Inspector.

The inspection of schools this year was rudely interrupted by the great disaster to our community. However the work was well advanced and only a few remained unexamined. The scattering of families interfered very much with the school visits by the nurse.

The advantages of inspection were shown by the large number of defects observed the previous year being remedied.

The following is the report of work done compiled by Miss Gleaves School Nurse.

H. A. PAYZANT,
School Inspector.
