Call for Submissions

The Halifax Urban Design Awards aim to recognize and celebrate excellence in urban design in our community. Urban design plays a key role in enhancing the quality of life for residents.

The 2021 awards will be held virtually. Once the Call for Submissions is complete, a jury of urban design experts will consider submissions. In place of traditional in-person site visits by our jury, project teams may be asked to participate in a video conference with our jury and/or provide additional site photos or videos. Members of the jury or HRM staff may also request to visit the site and take photos or videos for jury reference. Projects or plans must have been completed after January 1, 2013 to qualify for the 2021 Halifax Urban Design Awards.
