

Judie and Jim Edgar

As cancer survivors, Judie and Jim participated in and fundraised for cancer events for many years. Judie's warm and engaging personality brought others into her journey. The two of them, always thinking of others and how they can help those with life after cancer, envisioned a place that cancer survivors could go to reflect on their journey and to celebrate cancer survivorship. They began to plan for the very first garden for cancer survivors in Atlantic Canada. Now located on the Dartmouth Waterfront, the Cancer Survivors Daffodil Garden is the result of thousands of hours of meetings, planning, promoting, and organizing. Judie and Jim's unwavering commitment to this project inspired the contributions of many organizations, helpers, and donors. The result is a place of hope and inspiration for those affected by cancer and their families. Judie and Jim's perseverance with this project has ensured a landmark on the waterfront for many years to come.
