

Helga Cunningham

For over two decades, Helga Cunningham has given countless hours to the Halifax Lancers.

Whether decision-making at the Board level, volunteering for events, dealing with a broken fence post, running out of stamps in the office or a horse requiring special medicine from the Valley, Helga will always answer the needs of the organization. We don't know what we will do when Helga is unable to volunteer because she is such a fundamental part of our organization and community. She is irreplaceable. She puts Lancers first and without her, we would not be able to fulfill our mission of "building better lives through horsemanship".
