9.1.1 2023 Town Hall Debrief

The Committee reflected on the 2023 Town Hall and shared the following perspectives:

- Overall, the event was a positive experience and the virtual-and-in-person format worked well.
- There was confusion in the room during the switch between the panel and open floor session that led to less engagement in the open floor session. The transition could have been made smoother by communicating that people should remain seated or by taking a break between these sessions. This should be explored for the 2024 event.
- Having a panelist speak to Access-A-Bus was useful, but there should be more representation from Halifax Transit at future events because there were many questions about transit that could not be answered during the event. There could also be a role at the Town Hall for a staff or Committee member from the Active Transportation Advisory Committee, and for someone who could speak to Extra Care Taxis.

- There were questions that could not be answered by Halifax Regional Municipality staff because they were outside of municipal jurisdiction and having staff representatives from the Government of Nova Scotia should be prioritized for future events. If representatives from the province are not able to attend, they should be asked to provide printed resources that could be handed out at the Town Hall.
- Having food at the event was a positive addition. The food was appreciated by attendees and Committee members and should be continued for future events, but maybe with a smaller amount of food.
- Questions facilitated from online and in-person worked well for the flow of the event.
- The framing and visibility of the ASL interpreters in Zoom was improved from the 2022 event.
- The event seemed shorter than previous years, but people still seemed to have questions. Members questioned whether more information should be provided on each topic, or should people have more time to ask their questions
